Apparently named after the owner's daughter, Casa Evaliza is a dream holiday home dedicated to children in more than just title – and is none too shabby for adults either!

From the kids' pretty-in-pink bunk room with space for four sleeping beauties, to the pool complete with floating toys; from the cosy TV room to the box of games just in case there's a rainy day; from the cook who's happy to knock up a favourite pizza (as well as a whole host of other Asian and western delights) to the cheerful waiting staff willing to drop everything for a game of hide-and-seek – Casa Evaliza is a truly family-friendly holiday retreat.

The raised 14-metre pool, perfect for family fun, is set in lawns ripe for a game of tag while a giant balié provides shade for down-time, a round of cards or an outdoor feast. For kids seeking yet more amusement, the beach is but a three-minute walk down the road (five for those with shorter legs).

And for the adults? Casa Evaliza is right in the heart of Seminyak, close to classy eateries such as Ku Dé Ta and Sarong, yet its location within the gated Legian Club ensures a certain tranquility not often found in such a central position. Refurbished in 2009, four-bedroomed Casa Evaliza is a stunning villa which blends many of Bali's creative architectural touches with today's more modern requirements. Thatched along along roofs contrast beautifully with the clean white Pali-manan stonework; teakwood floors and trim give warmth to the cool whitewashed walls. A fully-fitted European kitchen sits comfortably alongside the lounge and dining room which is stuffed with artefacts, local artwork and historic prints collected from around the Indonesian archipelago. From here, giant doors fold open to make the most of the tropical gardens and that wonderfully refreshing pool – making it a great place to relax while keeping an eye on the kids.
